AUTISM SPECTRUM ANSWERS FOR COLORADO SPRINGS FAMILIES

Free help session for families wondering about development delays

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO — Autism, and the many related conditions of Autism Spectrum Disorder will affect 1 in 54* American children in 2020. Many families have questions or concerns about developmental or language delays they see in their children and need real answers, not just online search results.

In Colorado, Firefly Autism has been providing families in the Denver Metro area with proven behavioral and developmental supports for nearly 20 years. And now, Firefly Autism has a home in Colorado Springs. Firefly Autism South delivers safe and effective in-home treatment solutions for Springs families impacted by autism and related spectrum disorders including Asperger's syndrome.

To help answer questions and provide direction for the many Colorado Springs families who are concerned about their child's progress in school, social skills development or language acquisition, Firefly Autism South is providing a free Community Coffee Talk event at Jives Coffee Lounge. Recognized experts in the field of behavioral therapy and Applied Behavior Analysis will be available to answer questions, offer coaching and parenting tips, and provide direction that can change the life of a child and their family forever.

If you or someone you care about has questions, don't just ask a search engine. Ask the real experts, living and working in our community, at Jives Coffee Shop on November 2.
